English translation of the Japanese lyrics

Mother, what a wonderful, nourishing power you have!
Were it not for you in this world,
People would lose the Earth to return to,
And wander for all eternity.

Mother, our mother.
Persevering through the storm,
You offered prayers in sadness.
I pray you will stay in good health until the day
When all your wishes are fulfilled,
And, as though endowed with wings, you take flight
Towards the heaven

Mother, with your ideas and wisdom,
I hope you will perform a melody of peace on Earth,
Where people look forward to the arrival of spring.
Thus, you will become the mother
Of the Century of Humanity.
